Publishers' Chat

It is not necessary to purchase copies of The Budget at 10 cents per copy in order to secure the various festival services which are shown in each issue, for each of these services is published in separate form at the price indicated on the title page of that service as found in The Budget.

Be sure that the attention of your Pastor is called to Page 6.

The real purpose of The Budget is to furnish samples of our festival services in advance of their publication, in convenient form for examination and preservation, so that music committees and others interested in the selection of music for their Sunday School for Christmas, Easter, Children's Day and other festival occasions, may, at the right time, and at the least expense and inconvenience, examine the new services which we have to offer and order from us or their dealers the services desired.

Be sure that the attention of your Pastor is called to Page 6.

It is not our plan to have a sufficiently large edition of each issue of The Budget to supply any demand for quantities; only copies enough to care for our large subscription list and a limited number to send out as sample copies being provided. This will explain why so frequently orders are returned by us to our customers who send for quantities of The Budget.

Be sure that the attention of your Pastor is called to Page 6.

If you have found

The Budget helpful, and have not already subscribed for it, by sending your subscription, (only 25 cents per year,) you will be sure to get each issue, but do not send us orders for quantities of The Budget when you want any of the publications contained in it. Order only the publications desired at the price stated on the title page of that publication as it is found in The Budget.

Be sure that the attention of your Pastor is called to Page 6.

If you do not find in this issue of The Budget just the kind of music you want or the announcement of the publication most needed or desired, drop us a line stating as plainly as possible just what is needed and in all probability we have it or can secure it for you.

Be sure that the attention of your Pastor is called to Page 6.

A copy of our latest catalogue might be of interest to you. We will be very glad to send one if we may know that you are interested in it.

New Christmas Services for 1913

The Nativity

Composed by I. H. Meredith

We believe that this service will prove one of the most successful ever penned by this popular composer. All of the songs have that melodic quality so evident in all his work, and the little points of originality and merit, which make his music unique and interesting, are apparent in each song. There is a wide diversity of style in the various numbers and the service has been constructed along lines which will insure a never-lagging interest during its rendition. See pages 21 to 35.

Christmas Classics No. 2

Selected and arranged by J. W. Lerman

We issued some years ago our first volume of "Christmas Classics," which was greatly appreciated by a very discriminating clientele who were able to produce successfully music of this type. This volume contained arrangements from Pinsuti, Faure, Gounod, Molloy, Gray, Gruber and Adams. Christmas Classics No. 2 is built upon somewhat similar lines, but the melodies selected are more popular and distinctly melodic in style. Schools desiring only a few musical selections for their program should carefully examine Christmas Classics No. 2, the music of which is found on pages 37 to 52.

Festival Songs No. 5

By various composers

This service contains a varied collection of carols by American composers. They have been selected from hundreds of manuscripts submitted to us, and represent the best we are able to purchase in the open market. Each song has been edited with painstaking care and we believe we have given to our patrons in Festival Songs No. 5 a magnificent collection of bright, attractive and meritorious songs. A careful examination of these carols will convince you of their merits. See pages 53 to 67.

Story and Song Services

Many Pastors and Choir Directors will welcome the suggestion offered in our Story and Song Services. They combine in a most attractive manner a Christmas Sermon and the complete musical service to accompany it.

The burden of preparation and expense are reduced to the minimum, while the maximum of pleasure and profit will be experienced in the use of such a service.

We were the first American publishers to specialize in this line. Every successful thing is immediately imitated. It has been so in this as in other lines of our publications. We endeavor, however, to maintain a standard of merit which keeps our competitors always following.

The four listed below are all for Christmas, the one entitled The Universal King being new for 1913. The others are just as new to any who have not already examined them.

To any Pastor or Choir Director we will send returnable examination copies on request.

The Universal King

Story by Frances Billinge Evans

Music by Meredith, Lerman and Simper

This story is delightful and its author shows not only a fine imagination in its conception, but the literary skill and technique to give a fitting expression to her ideas. The story is very short and yet nothing seems lacking that is needed. The musical selections are built into the story and the two in combination form one of the most delightful Christmas programs imaginable. The anthems (two in number) are of easy to medium grade and the carols are such as any volunteer choir worthy of the name can readily master.

Others in this series suitable for Christmas which have been popular in former years are

"IN QUEST OF THE KING"

"HIS BIRTHDAY"

"THE SHEPHERD'S STORY"

In rendering any of these the Pastor or any good reader reads the story which is illustrated throughout by carols and anthems which are rendered by the choir. They make a decidedly popular service for any Sunday evening during the Christmas season. They are uniform in price, 15 cents per copy, $1.50 per dozen postpaid.

Sacred Christmas Cantatas

We announce here two charming two-part sacred cantatas written for choruses of young people where only soprano and alto parts are desired.

Only a faint idea of the outline of each cantata can be gathered from the description given below but to any who may want to make such a work a part of their Christmas program we shall be pleased to send returnable examination copies of either or both on request.

Two-Part Cantatas

EMMANUEL'S DAY. Text by Lawrence Fish. Music by Fred W. Peace. This cantata was written especially for our use by Mr. Peace. It fills a growing demand for a work suitable for choruses of girls' voices or any choir desiring music for soprano and alto voices only. It is written in a musicianly manner and with a proper appreciation of the ability of those for whom it was prepared. A complete description of the work is impossible here, but if you desire to render a musical work of this nature with your young people's choir we believe that you cannot do better than secure this work. A fine libretto and music that is delightfully attractive. Price 40 cents, postpaid.

THE SONG OF THE ANGELS. By Charles Darnton. The story of the Nativity is here freshly told and set to music of winning sweetness and simplicity. It opens with a brilliant and taking instrumental movement, "The March of the Magi". The work consists of twelve numbers set as solos or choruses for two or three part Young People's Choirs. All the music is simple but extremely melodious and bright, and nothing better could be chosen for a short Christmas Service for young people. Time of rendition, about thirty minutes. Price 25 cents, postpaid.

Choir Cantatas

EMMANUEL. By Charles Darnton. This work tells of the birth of the Saviour and consists of 18 numbers distributed among the four solo voices and the chorus. The music for the Soloists is extremely melodious and interesting, with thoroughly musicianly accompaniments; and the Choral writing is at once vigorous and expressive, and fresh in its harmonic treatment. Special mention may be made of No. 11, "Be Thou Exalted," and the final chorus, "O Give Thanks," which are both excellent examples of spirited part-writing. A representative pastoral theme runs through the work, and lends to the whole a unity of feeling which is highly satisfactory. Time of rendition, about one hour. Price 50 cents, postpaid.

THE LIGHT OF AGES. By Fred W. Peace. We are glad to announce this new Christmas cantata which we commissioned Mr. Peace to write for us. Among its main features are the following which will commend it to a great host of choir directors wanting a good easy grade cantata. No melody goes above F. Every modulation and sequence is written in easiest form. Solos for usual quartet. The work throughout teems with striking climaxes, making an interesting work for small choirs, but of sufficient scope for any chorus. Time of rendition about forty minutes. Price 50 cents, postpaid.

MESSIAH'S ADVENT. By Fred W. Peace. No cantata which we have issued has enjoyed such immediate favor as this one and we believe its popularity is fully merited, for the composer has produced a work teeming with interest and variety from its beginning to its close. The solos, duets and quartets are charmingly attractive, and the choruses are magnificent in their strength and beauty. The work is medium in grade, but in effect these choruses sound as well as the great oratorios. Easy enough for an ordinary choir to master, and good enough for rendition by the best choir in the land. Time of rendition about forty-five minutes. Price 60 cents, postpaid.

THE SON OF THE HIGHEST. By Irénée Bergé. In some respects we consider this work superior to "The Conqueror", by the same composer. The libretto is more disconnected, which will enable the miscellaneous use of solos and choruses alone if desired. It is a great and glorious work, and we believe the ripening years will bring fame to this composer. Choral societies and choirs desiring a short Christmas work of superior quality will do well to examine this cantata. Time of rendition about thirty minutes. Price 50 cents, postpaid.

THE STAR OF BETHLEHEM

"There's a song in the air,"

There's a star in the sky"

Words by J. G. Holland Music by W. F. Suds

THE SONG OF AGES

Words by Flora Kirkland Music by I. H. Meredith

For some years past this has been one of the most popular solos at the Christmas season, and we believe it will be used more and more each succeeding year. This is published in three keys with violin obligato. Price 60 cents. In ordering state which key is desired.

MARY'S LULLABY

Words by A. Selwyn Garbett Music by J. W. Lerman

Very simple in its melodic and harmonic construction but delightfully fresh and new. Medium voice, one key only. Price 50 cents.

THE SHEPHERDS' VISION

Words by Grant C. Tullar Music by I. H. Meredith

This is a charming setting of the old, yet ever new, Christmas story. A proper rendition of this new song will bring again the vision which came to the shepherds of old, and which for centuries past has left its sweet impression of peace and good-will upon humanity's heart at the Christmas season.

Published in three keys for low, medium and high voice, with violin obligato. Price 60 cents. State key desired.

The PASTOR Should See This!

As this page is of vital importance to the PASTOR, we shall greatly appreciate it if you will see that his attention is directed to it.

"The Universal King"

This service may be used in place of a carol service or cantata for Sunday School, by selecting a few of the best singers in the Sunday School having them prepare and render the carols, "For Unto us a Child is Born", "Oh Wondrous Night", "Across the Silent Midnight", "Gifts for Jesus", and "The Universal King", while the co-operation of the church choir is secured to render the anthems "Arise, Shine" and "Let us Now Go". We believe though that its strongest appeal will be to the PASTOR who will find it a most appropriate and attractive service for some Sunday evening during the Christmas season. The music should be rendered throughout by the church choir which may be supplemented by picked voices from the Sunday School or not as may be desired. Only copies enough to supply the singers and reader are needed.

Before giving the service the Pastor (or whoever is to read the Story) should become thoroughly familiar with the text so that it may be read in the most impressive way. The Story then becomes the SERMON for that occasion.

This suggestion will be welcomed by thousands of pastors who are puzzled to know just what to plan for the Christmas season.

For lack of space four pages of the anthem "Arise, Shine" and five of "Let us Now go" are omitted from the service as found in following pages. In the regular service they are given in full.

"The Shepherd's Story", "His Birthday" and "In Quest of the King" are other Story and Song Services appropriate for the Christmas season.

A large list of other services in the series suitable for any and all occasions will be mailed by the publishers on request.

Lantern slides which may be rented at reasonable rates are provided for some of these Story and Song Services.

ARISE, SHINE!

COPYRIGHT, 1906, BY TULLAR-MEREDITH CO.

ISAIAH, LX. 1, 2, 3

I. H. MEREDITH.

Allegro con spirito.

IT was night. Out in the fields, under the Judean sky, a group of shepherds kept watch over their flocks. Presently, as was perhaps their custom, all lay down to sleep save one, who held himself ready to give the alarm, should danger threaten the inoffensive sheep. Propped up against a fragment of rock, his shepherd's frock gathered closely about him, his crook lying near at hand, the watcher sent a far gaze upward into the brilliantly lighted dome of heaven.

A thoughtful youth was Nathan and strongly imbued with the religious fervor of his race. Away on the horizon slept the little town of Bethlehem; and as his eyes wandered adown the sloping dome to earth, what more natural than that his thoughts should revert to that idol of every Jewish youth, the shepherd King of Israel, who perchance in those very fields charmed the quiet sheep with spontaneous melody. Many a time and oft must David the Bethlehemite have lifted adoring eyes to those far-away wonder-worlds, set for all time in the canopy of blue. And, thinking thus, Nathan murmured under his breath, "The heavens declare the glory of God, and the firmament sheweth His handiwork."

At the sound, the figure nearest to him stirred, and a voice whispered, "What sayest thou, Nathan?"

"Only what our King David said of old about yonder firmament. Strange it doth seem, oh Michael, that the same Orion and the same Pleiades should still look down upon watching shepherds, even as in those far-away days."

He paused; then added in still lower tones, "I know not what it is, but there seemeth a rare spirit in the air tonight. Dost feel it, oh Michael?"

His companion crept a little closer; "Did'st think I slept? he questioned softly. "Nay, I slept not. My heart is stirred within me. Methinks the very sheep are under a spell, so wondrous still are they. As for me, I seem to be waiting and listening for I know not what."

"Art affrighted, Michael?"

"Nay: only filled with awe. And tonight, as never before, I long unutterably to be good".

"I think thou art good", returned Nathan earnestly, "and thy goodness hath ever been a help to me. When Lucas yonder revileth the God of our fathers, thou alone canst silence him".

"Poor Lucas! He is in the snare of the fowler", said Michael sadly, and alas! he knoweth it, but would have it appear that he careth not. With Sty-chus and Jonas 'tis different; they neither know nor care. I sorrow for Lucas day and night".

Would to God some prophet might arise to arouse our land from slumber! I do well remember, Michael, that somewhere about this time the promised Messias should appear.

The speaker's face was filled with the reflected light of a prophetic soul; and as Michael answered not, he broke forth into those wonderful words dear to every Jewish heart: "For unto us a child is born".

So wondrous was the night, that the favored shepherds were fain to awaken their fellows to its radiance; but alas! what power had they to move the spiritually dead? Bending over the old man Lucas, whom he had ever loved, Michael whispered, "Awake, oh Lucas, and behold the glory of the Lord".

With an angry ejaculation the shepherd raised himself, and stared at his youthful companions.

"Thou surely wakest me too soon," he cried harshly. "What ailest thee, brave guardians of the flock?"

"Lucas, the night is wonderful! Seest thou nothing new? Hearest thou nothing of the distant harmonies in the vault of heaven?"

The old man broke into an incredulous laugh. "What strange madness is this?" he demanded scoffingly. "Art thou also among the prophets?"

"Nay! scoff not, Lucas, for surely God is in His holy temple. Seest thou nothing new in the night, oh shepherd?"

Again the old man's laughter disturbed the solemn stillness. "Thou art beside thyself, Michael! What said the wise man of old? 'Nothing new under the sun!' Sheep, and stars, and shepherds; such as have been since the world began! These only I see; and yet thou wakest me!"

"Because I would have thy soul awake, dear Lucas".

"Weariest thou not of my soul?" he asked bitterly. "Verily, thou art dreamers both! Dream on! As for me, I would sleep again;" and, turning his face earthward, he closed not alone his bodily eyes, but the eyes of his understanding also.

Then came to the seeing eyes and the hearing ears, the heavenly vision and the heaven-born song. Earthly things vanished away; and when first they saw and felt the glory of the Lord enfolding them, the shepherds fell prone upon the earth, for, "They were sore afraid". But at the Angel's "Fear not," they gathered themselves together, listening with a great and trembling joy to such music as had never before fallen on the ear of sinful man.

Was this a part of that choir that ever and always sings around the throne of God on High? Perchance among the Heavenly Host were those who of old had done the Lord's work, and sung His praises — Moses and Miriam, Deborah and Barak, David and Asaph, and many another of the sweet singers of Israel. And, wonder of wonders, they, the humble keepers of the sheep, were privileged to hear that grand new song! Truly God is no respecter of persons.

Thus listened they, until the wondrous strains and the angelic singers faded away beyond the blue. And it came to pass as the angels were gone away from them into heaven, the shepherds said one to another, "Let us now go even unto Bethlehem, and see this thing which is come to pass, which the Lord hath made known unto us."

With joyful haste they started on their way. As they had seen and heard, so they believed. In absolute faith they wended their way toward the City of David, there to find the Savior, which is Christ the Lord.

The musical score is written on four staves. The top staff is a treble clef with a key signature of one sharp (F#). The second staff is an alto clef with a key signature of one sharp. The third staff is a treble clef with a key signature of one sharp. The fourth staff is a bass clef with a key signature of one sharp. The music is in common time (C). The lyrics 'est,..... to God in the high - - - est.....' are written below the first staff. The word 'Ped.' is written below the fourth staff.

Guided by the Spirit, the shepherds found the humble resting place of the Messiah. And who shall tell of the joy that filled their souls as they looked upon the young Child, with Joseph, and Mary his mother! What though He lay in a manger, with never a sign of earthly pomp and splendor about His bed? Perchance the eyes, so recently dazzled by the Heavenly Vision, were permitted to see the actual glory of the Infant King. Be that as it may, in their hearts was left no room for doubt. By all that had gone before, they knew that they had found, in the person of this little Child, the long expected Messiah. No material gifts had they to lay at his feet, only the worship of the pure in heart. Perhaps, as they knelt before the manger, they repeated to Mary and Joseph the story of the Heavenly Vision; for we are told that "Mary kept all these things, and pondered them in her heart." Nothing could appear beyond belief to the Virgin mother. Had not the Angel Gabriel delivered his wonderful message to her? Had she not felt the power of the Highest over-shadowing her? And was she not the chosen mother of the Son of God? Therefore would the story of the shepherds only serve to deepen the well of joy overflowing in her pure heart.

Many things had the shepherds to tell abroad, in the days that followed their visit to the manger. Doubtless they went again to gaze on the wondrous Child, of whom a visible Choir of Angels had sung and prophesied. For who, having once seen the Christ, would not go again?

Let us picture one such return visit. It was after the circumcision, and the Child had received the name of Jesus. Passing along the familiar road, the young shepherds fell in with a large caravan. Wondering much at the heavily laden camels, and the rich attire of three of the riders, Michael asked of one of the servants, "Whence are these, and what is their mission?"

And the man made answer, "These are three Kings from the East, and they bring gifts to Him whose star hath of late appeared.

And with a sudden thrill of joy, the shepherds knew that these were gifts for Jesus.

1. From the East-ern lands, treasures in their hands, Came three kings from realms afar,
2. To the man-ger low, joy-ful-ly they go, There the roy-al gifts they bring,
3. Like the kings of old with their precious gold, With their myrrh and incense rare,

On-ward thro' the night, fol-low-ing the light, Guid-ed by the Christmas Star.
To the Child fore-told by the bards of old, Christ the promised Sa-viour King.
We our gifts may bring to our new-born King, We may bow in grate-ful pray'r.

Drawing near to the noble travelers, the shepherds hastened to make obeisance. Then one of the riders, bending low over his camel, thus addressed them.

"Strangers are we from a far land. And lo! it hath been shown us that in Bethlehem should be born one who is called King of the Jews. Knowest thou aught of this matter?"

"We do, sir. To us was revealed the glorious news. We have seen the Messiah who shall redeem Israel."

"And is He even now in Bethlehem?" demanded the second rider.

"Yea, even now; but we have heard that when the days of the purification of Mary His mother are accomplished, He will be presented to the Lord at Jerusalem."

"Our souls do rejoice greatly," said the third rider. "We journeyed first to Jerusalem, expecting there to find the new-born King. But—what saith your Scriptures?"

The answer burst fervently from the lips of Nathan. "And thou Bethlehem, in the land of Judah, art not the least among the princes of Judah; for out of thee shall come a governor that shall rule my people Israel."

"Tis well said," returned the travelers. "Lo! we talked with Herod the King, and he sent us unto Bethlehem. But the star we saw in the East hath gone before us ever since we left Jerusalem; we shall surely find Him whom we seek."

Then with words of prayer and thanksgiving, the shepherds fell behind, while the strangers went forward, until that heavenly point of light came and stood over the temporary dwelling place of the young Child and his parents.

"And when they were come into the house, they saw the young child with Mary, His mother; and fell down and worshiped him; and when they had opened their treasures, they presented unto Him gifts; gold and frankincense, and myrrh."

Great and learned were the three Wisemen, yet, with hearts prepared by the spirit of God, they accepted the Christ Child unquestioningly. Perhaps they were granted a vision of things unspeakable, as they entered the Holy Presence. Certain it is, that He, who was to be a Light to lighten the Gentiles, was revealed in very truth to their seeking souls; and, having seen and worshiped Him, they departed to their own country, there to declare the truth of prophecy fulfilled, for in the Babe of Bethlehem they had discovered "The Universal King."

Cantatas For Young People's Choirs

Sacred

THE CHILDHOOD OF JOSEPH

By Alfred Moffat

With English and Welsh words

A Miniature Oratorio for Children

This work is designed for Soprano and Contralto Soli, and two and three part chorus. and extends to 18 numbers, occupying about an hour in rendition. Of the Choruses, No. 11, "See their Eyes with Murder Gleaming", and No. 15, "Chant of the Wandering Tribe", may be especially mentioned as instances of powerful and effective writing, and in No. 13, "Joseph's Prayer in the Pit", Mr. Moffat has shown his command of pure and expressive melody. This number is indeed a gem, and may be expected to prove a favorite wherever heard. Price 50 cents, postpaid.

THE MORNING OF LIFE

Text by Lizzie DeArmond

Music by J. W. Lerman

A sacred juvenile cantata for Children's Day. This cantata will be hailed with pleasure by those who desire a more elaborate and connective service than is found in the usual Children's Day pamphlets. It is a children's cantata, and none but children will be required for its rendition. The composer has considered this fact in the writing of his melodies, which are medium in pitch and carefully written. The libretto is bright and interesting, thus insuring a wide popularity for this work. There are about fifteen musical numbers in all. The dialog is simple and unaffected, and no special characters or elaborate costuming is necessary. Price 15 cents per copy, $1.50 per dozen, postpaid.

Missionary

THE WORLD FOR CHRIST

Text by Laurene Highfield

Music by J. W. Lerman

This cantata has been written to meet the demand for a bright, interesting Missionary cantata. Miss Highfield in her libretto has covered this subject in a most pleasing manner. The cast is composed of the following: Missionary group, eight characters; Anti-Missionary group, nine characters; builders, sowers, reapers, Christian soldiers, Christian graces (little girls dressed in white), Brahman, Hindu, Women of India, Parsee, Mohammedan. Children may be added to either group to strengthen the chorus. There is considerable action throughout the cantata, the anti-missionary group erecting upon the platform a wall made up of objections to missions, which is overthrown by the missionary group. The music is bright and sparkling throughout the cantata, and can be rendered by the scholars of any Sunday School. Price 25 cents per copy.

Christmas

EMMANUEL'S DAY

Libretto by Lawrence V. Fish

Music by Fred W. Peace

A short sacred, two part Christmas cantata for young people's choirs. This cantata has been especially prepared to supply a demand for a work suitable for choirs of girls' voices. It is written throughout for soprano and alto and the music possesses all the harmonic virility and melodic spontaneity for which this composer is famous. He gauges to a remarkable nicety the vocal possibilities of those for whom the work is prepared. Time of rendition thirty to forty minutes. Price 40 cents per copy.

THE SONG OF THE ANGELS

By Charles Darnton

The story of the Nativity is here freshly told and set to music of winning sweetness and simplicity. It opens with a brilliant and taking instrumental movement, "The March of the Magi". The work consists of twelve numbers set as Solos or Choruses for two or three part Young People's Choirs. All the music is simple but extremely melodious and bright, and nothing better could be chosen for a short Christmas Service for young people. Time of rendition, about thirty minutes. Price 25 cents postpaid.

THE COMING OF THE KING Cantata-Service

Text by Edith Sanford Tillotson Anthems by J. W. Lerman Carols by I. H. Meredith

A novel feature of this Cantata-Service lies in the fact that it can be used purely as a cantata by the choir or by the choir and School, or it can be used as a carol service by the choir and School or by the School alone. The carol part of it is published as a service without the anthems, under the title of "Hope of Ages" (see "Services"). Price for Cantata-Service, 15 cents per copy, $1.50 per dozen, net, postpaid. Orchestration for carols, $1.50.

Operetta

THE LAND OF LIBERTY

Libretto by A. Selwyn Garbett

Music by J. W. Lerman

This young folks' operetta is suitable for use at any season of the year. The Libretto is very clearly developed and abounds in humorous and catchy dialog. Few characters are necessary for its rendition and the chorus may be large or small according to the possibilities of those rendering it. It is not a "patriotic" operetta although it can be appropriately used for any patriotic occasion. The tunes are bright and rollicking, full of easy melody and of easy grade throughout. This work is worthy of great success and we predict for it a wide popularity. Price 25 cents per copy, net, postpaid.

SCRIPTURE READING

The Eternal Brightness

Leader—The birth of Jesus was on this wise;

Response—And it came to pass in those days that there went out a decree from Caesar Augustus that all the world should be taxed.

Leader—And all went to be taxed, every one unto his own city.

Response—And Joseph (with Mary) also went up from Galilee, out of the city of Nazareth, unto the city of David, which is called Bethlehem (because he was of the house and lineage of David).

Leader—And so it was that while they were there, she brought forth her first-born, and wrapped him in swaddling clothes, and laid him in a manger, because there was no room for them in the inn.

Response—And there were in the same country shepherds abiding in the fields, keeping watch over their flocks by night.

Leader—And, lo, the angel of the Lord came upon them, and the glory of the Lord shone round about them, and they were sore afraid.

Response—And the angel said unto them, Fear not, for behold, I bring you good tidings of great joy which shall be to all people.

Leader—For unto you is born this day, in the city of David, a Saviour which is Christ the Lord.

Response—That was the true Light which lighteth every man that cometh into the world.

Leader—And we beheld his glory, the glory as of the only begotten of the Father.

Response—Who being the brightness of his glory and the express image of his person, and upholding all things by the word of his power, when he had by himself purged our sins, sat down on the right hand of the majesty on high.

Leader—Then spake Jesus again unto them saying, I am the light of the world.

Response—The Lord shall be unto thee an everlasting light, and thy God thy glory.

Exercises and Recitations

A CHRISTMAS CAROL

"What means this glory round our feet,"
That magi mused, "more bright than morn?"
And voices chanted, clear and sweet,
"Today the Prince of Peace is born."

"What means that star," the shepherds said,
"That brightens through the rocky glen?"
And angels answering overhead

Sang, "Peace on earth, goodwill to men!"

'Tis eighteen hundred years and more
Since those sweet oracles were dumb;
We wait for Him like those of yore;
Alas! He seems so slow to come.

But it was said in words of gold
No time or sorrow e'er shall dim,
That little children might be bold
In perfect trust to come to Him.

All round about our feet shall shine
A light like that the wise men saw,
If we our loving wills incline
To that sweet life which is the law.

So shall we learn to understand
The simple faith of shepherds then,
And, clasping kindly hand in hand,
Sing, "Peace on earth, goodwill to men!"

James Russell Lowell

WHY JESUS CAME

Jesus to the world was given
That He might win the world for heaven;
For this He left a heavenly crown,
And came to lowly Bethlehem town;
For this He lived and tried to win
The wicked world from wrong and sin.
For this He bore the cruel scorn,
And taunts of men, and died forlorn;
Died upon the shameful tree
To purchase heaven for you and me;
This was the Mission He came to fill,
This is the Mission of Jesus still.

S. C. Kirk

COME TO US ALL

Come thou, dear Prince, oh, come to us, this holy Christmas-time!
Come to the busy marts of earth, the quiet homes, the noisy streets, the humble lanes.
Come to us all, and with Thy love touch every human heart,
That we may know that love, and in its blessed peace Bear charity to all mankind.

CHRISTMAS VOICES

- 1st—Out on the hills the fir trees bend
Their pretty heads together,
And whisper, "See, white flakes descend!
'Twill soon be Christmas weather;
Then each shall be a Christmas tree,
And O, how happy we shall be!"
- 2nd—And far above in arch and tower,
The bells awake from dreaming,
Rejoicing in the charmed hour
When Christmas light is gleaming.
They ring as one united voice,
"Awake, O earth, rejoice, rejoice!"
- 3rd—And high and low and young and old
Are bound in one glad union,
Led by the Christmas light, they hold
A new and sweet communion:
For all as one great family are
When shines the lovely Christmas Star!

Alice Jean Cleator

THE SHORTEST DAY

When I hear the cold winds blow,
Or see some little flakes of snow,
Then Christmas time is near I know;
And I begin to count the days,
Until my patient mamma says,
"Don't count, my dear, for don't you know
That counted days are always slow!"
I tried to do as mamma said
But still the "count" ran in my head;
The last the longest was to stay;
But, then, the next was Christmas Day:
And now it seems so queer, so queer,
That it should seem the shortest one—
The shortest day in all the year.

MINISTERING ANGELS

Five children appear on the platform, and recite all in unison:

"When he bringeth in the first begotten into the world, he saith, and let all the angels of God worship him."

- 1st—I think the angels sing again
On every Christmas night,
The song that breathes good-will to men,
From heaven's radiant height.
- 2nd—I like to think their harps they sweep
To praise the Lord above,
The festal hour again to keep,
With golden notes of love.
- 3rd—I think they come on flashing wings,
The children's cribs to bless,
And soothe the helpless little things
With many a sweet caress.
- 4th—And to the weary mothers, they
Bring messages of love:
For he who in the manger lay
Now cares for them above.
- 5th—And to all people everywhere
The same glad news they bring,
That Bethlehem's Baby, pure and fair,
Is crowned, our Saviour King.

The five children recite together:

"Who maketh his angels spirits, and his ministers a flame of fire,
Are they not all ministering spirits, sent forth to minister for them who shall be heirs of salvation?"

While music is played softly, a number of little girls appear dressed in white with wings attached to their shoulders. They recite together:

"Fear not, for behold, I bring you good tidings of great joy, which shall be to all people.
For unto you is born this day in the city of David, a Saviour which is Christ the Lord.
Glory to God in the highest, and on earth peace, good will to men."

Let all on the platform unite in singing:

Glory be to the Father, and to the Son and to the Holy Ghost: which was in the beginning, is now, and ever shall be, world without end, Amen.

The wings may be omitted, of course, if not desired.

THE CHARM OF THE AGES

(An exercise for four children)

- 1st—There's a song that shall ever be sung o'er again,
As long as the heavens look down upon men,
The song that was sung by the angels of light
To the shepherds at Bethlehem city one night.
- 2nd—There's a beautiful story that never grows old:
'Tis newer and sweeter the more it is told;
'Tis the story the angels brought down to the earth,
The story of Jesus the dear Saviour's birth.
- 3rd—There's a star that I think of so oft when I see
The bright stars above looking down upon me:
'Tis the star of the Wise Men, that beautiful star
That led them to Jesus from regions afar.
- 4th—There is One in the story, the song and the star,
That makes the bright Christmas days all that they are;
'Tis Jesus the Saviour, the dear Christmas Guest;
Whoever keeps Christmas with Him will be blest.

S. C. Kirk

IN BETHLEHEM

In Bethlehem if they had only known
Who shelter sought from realms beyond the star,
What doors of welcome had been open thrown
What fast-closed gates had been swung wide ajar!

But dreaming not that He long prophesied
Should come to them in such a lowly guise,
They failed to see the night all glorified,
The flaming star, the angels' raptured cries.

Keep watch, O heart, lest when some influence sweet
Some breath divine shall seek to entrance win,
Thou find too late as they of Bethlehem
It was the Master who thy guest had been!

Alice Jean Cleator

THE POET'S WORD

Why do bells for Christmas ring?
Why do little children sing?

Once a lovely, shining star,
Seen by shepherds from afar,
Gently moved until its light
Made a manger-cradle bright.

There a darling Baby lay
Pillowed soft upon the hay,
And His mother sang and smiled,
"This is Christ, the Holy Child."
So the bells for Christmas ring,
So the little children sing.

THE CHRISTMAS HOLLY

Motion exercise for several children

"I'm sleepy," sighed the summer rose,
"I'll close my eyes awhile."
"And I'm so tired," sighed buttercup,
"I really cannot smile!"
"I'm drowsy" too," the aster said,
And quick came the reply
From meadow, wood, and flower-bed,
"And I! and I! and I!"

And so they closed their pretty eyes
As autumn's "snow" fell down,
The first soft snow of darkening skies
O'er field and wayside brown.

'Twas then the holly whispered low,
"The earth looks dark and drear
Without a flower! so I'll bestow
A 'smile of hope and cheer.'"

And so when Christmas "joy-bells ring
And skies with clouds are gray,
We welcome you," Oh holly dear,
The flower of Christmas Day!

JUVENILE XMAS CANTATAS

SANTA'S JOY FACTORY (New 1912). Text by Edith Sanford Tillotson. Music by I. H. Meredith. The plot is laid in "Santa's" workshop, which has for its motto "Joy for all Hearts". The various toys and dolls become for the time real live characters and take part in the cantata by dialog and song, to the amusement of both old and young. Prominent among these are the funny "Jack-in-the-Box", "The Noah's Ark Animals" and the "Little Japanese Dolls", with three songs and sayings, while the charm of the "Negro Mammy's Lullaby" will linger long in the hearts of all who hear this delightful cantata. Price 25 cents, net, postpaid.

KORONATION OF KING KRIS KRINGLE. Libretto by Fred. Emerson Brooks. Music by I. H. Meredith. This cantata is especially commendable from both a literary and a musical standpoint. It is one of the best combinations of wit, humor and pathos that it is possible to find in any one cantata. One verse of the song entitled "The Spickety Man" will make everybody happy, while "Aunt Cloc" a characteristic negro mammy, helps to make every moment of the evening enjoyable, in witty sayings and humorous songs. Price, 20 cents net. Per dozen, $2.40, postpaid.

HOW SANTA CLAUS EXPLAINED. Libretto by Jean M. Thompson. Music by Carl F. Price. An up-to-the-minute cantata full of bright catchy songs and choruses with just enough laughable easy-to-learn dialog to carry it along. Be sure to examine this one if you would give the children an evenings entertainment that all can enjoy. A laugh on every page. Price, 25 cents, net, postpaid.

TO SANTA'S LAND WITH THE DREAM MAN. Libretto by Lizzie DeArmond. Music by I. H. Meredith. The children want to visit Santa Claus' Land, but not knowing the way are prevented until the coming of the Dream Man, who offers to lead them there and bring them back in safety the next morning. The Dream Man comes as soon as the children are asleep and with his help they cross the Bridge of Dreams, where they find the things which always delight the children's hearts in "Santa's Land". The Dream Man, true to his promise, brings them all home in good season, and as they cross again the Bridge of Dreams they awaken to the fact that the true joy of Christmas is in the coming of the Christ Child and not in Santa Claus after all. Closes with a song of rejoicing because Christ the Lord is born.

With a little effort this can be made very beautiful. Price 25 cts., net, $3.00 per doz., postpaid. Full orchestration $2.50.

MOTHER GOOSE'S VISIT TO SANTA CLAUS. Libretto by Lizzie DeArmond. Music by I. H. Meredith. This cantata is sure to delight both old and young. Mother Goose as the chief character, and her retinue of relatives, take you on a charming visit to Santa Claus. This cantata has some decided musical hits, among which are the songs "I'm the Little Bird that Tells" (published also in sheet music form), "Old Dr. Foster", "Twinkling Stars", "Lazy Tom", "Song of the Snow Fairies", "We're the Dolls that Santa Left Behind", and closes with the beautiful chorus, "Hail, Father Santa Claus". Price 25 cents, net, postpaid.

IN WINTERLAND. Libretto by Lizzie DeArmond. Music by J. W. Lerman. King Winter rules in this cantata and with his willing subjects, "North Wind", "Jack Frost the Painter", "Frost Fairies", "Sunbeams", "Rain Drops", etc., etc., they weave a magic spell of joy about each heart at the Christmas season. It is principally a cantata of singing with just enough dialog or recitation to make it a connective whole. The musical numbers, "I'm Jack Frost the Painter", "Sleigh Bell Song", "Song of the Skaters" and "The Coasting Song" are decided hits. Santa Claus with his pack full of toys appears and sings one song, which could be omitted if no Santa Claus is desired. Price, 20 cents, net, postpaid.

JOLLY TIMES WITH THE SANTA CLAUS BAND. Libretto by Lizzie DeArmond. Music by I. H. Meredith. Santa Claus is accompanied by his band of ten boys who are full of fun and frolic, yet ever ready with a helping hand to assist old Santa in his efforts to bring good cheer to all.

Their "Jolly Time" is made more delightful by the coming of "The Eight Wind Fairies", "Grandfather Clock", "Eight Japanese Girls", "Postman", "Uncle Sam and Six Sailor Boys", "Columbia and Six Daughters", and numerous other original and interesting characters who take part in the festivities of the evening, which are climaxed by the closing chorus, "Hail the Gift of Love". Price, 25 cents, net, postpaid.

UNCLE SAM'S CELEBRATION. Libretto by Lizzie DeArmond. Music by I. H. Meredith and J. W. Lerman. Uncle Sam and Columbia have a jolly time celebrating the Christmas season, in which "Messenger Boys", "Telephone Girls", "Postmen", "Newsboys", "Bootblacks", "The Weather Bureau Man", "Indians" and various other well known characters take active part, principally in songs. There is very little dialog in this cantata, and NO SANTA CLAUS. Price, 25 cents, net, postpaid.

THE INTERRUPTED PROGRAM. Libretto by Elmer Ellsworth Higley. Music by I. H. Meredith. It tells of a school which started to render a Christmas program, but is always interrupted by some unexpected person or thing which prevents the rendering of the program as planned, but provides one as entertaining and helpful as can be planned with the talent you may have at your command. It lends itself to whatever conditions may prevail and is therefore adaptable to any school or community. Price 25 cents, net, postpaid.

A SURPRISE FOR SANTA CLAUS. Libretto by Edith Sanford Tillotson. Music by I. H. Meredith. In this cantata, Mother Goose acts as hostess, assisted by her company of helpers while Santa Claus, that "Busy, Busy Man", is the guest of the evening, and instead of having to entertain the company as Santa Claus is usually expected to do, he is invited to a comfortable seat and is royally entertained. This cantata contains only seven vocal numbers and is one of the easiest ones to produce we have in our list. The speaking parts are all interesting and easy to render. Price, 25 cents, net, postpaid.

YE THEEVING OF YE GOODE MYNCE PYE. Libretto by Josephine A. Van Tassel. Music by Alfred Lincoln Schultz. This cantata is designed as an entertainment FOR, rather than BY, the children. It is to be rendered by the young men and the young women of the church or school, although the children might be utilized by a good conductor in the choruses and minor parts.

This is an old English story and told in old English vernacular. But little staging or costuming. A charming entertainment and a delight to all who may hear it. Price 20 cents, net, postpaid.

SANTA CLAUS MINSTRELS. Libretto by Fred. Emerson Brooks. Music by I. H. Meredith. If you want a really funny cantata, here it is; Santa Claus as interlocutor, with Bones and Tambo the end men, makes merry with his bright sayings and funny songs. While it is for the most part fun, it is all of the best order. There are many beautiful songs in this cantata, some of which will be used on other occasions with delight to those who sing them and those who hear them. Price, 20 cents, net, postpaid.

Exercises and Recitations

THE SHORTEST DAY

When I hear the cold winds blow,
Or see some little flakes of snow,
Then Christmas time is near I know;
And I begin to count the days,
Until my patient mamma says,
"Don't count, my dear, for don't you know
That counted days are always slow!"
I tried to do as mamma said
But still the "count" ran in my head;
The last the longest was to stay;
But, then, the next was Christmas Day;
And now it seems so queer, so queer,
That it should seem the shortest one—
The shortest day in all the year.

IN BETHLEHEM

In Bethlehem if they had only known
Who shelter sought from realms beyond the star,
What doors of welcome had been open thrown
What fast-closed gates had been swung wide ajar!
But dreaming not that He long prophesied
Should come to them in such a lowly guise,
They failed to see the night all glorified,
The flaming star, the angels' raptured cries.
Keep watch, O heart, lest when some influence sweet
Some breath divine shall seek to entrance win,
Thou find too late as they of Bethlehem
It was the Master who thy guest had been!

MINISTERING ANGELS

Five children appear on the platform, and recite all in unison:

"When he bringeth in the first begotten into the world, he saith, and let all the angels of God worship him."

- 1st—I think the angels sing again
On every Christmas night,
The song that breathes good-will to men,
From heaven's radiant height.
- 2nd—I like to think their harps they sweep
To praise the Lord above,
The festal hour again to keep,
With golden notes of love.
- 3rd—I think they come on flashing wings,
The children's cribs to bless,
And soothe the helpless little things
With many a sweet caress.
- 4th—And to the weary mothers, they
Bring messages of love:
For He who in the manger lay
Now cares for them above.
- 5th—And to all people everywhere
The same glad news they bring,
That Bethlehem's Baby, pure and fair,
Is crowned, our Saviour King.

The five children recite together:

"Who maketh his angels spirits, and his ministers a flame of fire.

Are they not all ministering spirits, sent forth to minister for them who shall be heirs of salvation?"

While music is played softly, a number of little girls appear dressed in white with wings attached to their shoulders. They recite together:-

"Fear not, for behold, I bring you good tidings of great joy, which shall be to all people.

For unto you is born this day in the city of David, a Saviour which is Christ the Lord.

Glory to God in the highest, and on earth peace, good will to men."

Let all on the platform unite in singing:-

Glory be to the Father, and to the Son and to the Holy Ghost: which was in the beginning, is now, and ever shall be, world without end, Amen.

The wings may be omitted, of course, if not desired.

THE CHRISTMAS HOLLY

Motion exercise for several children

"I'm sleepy,"¹ sighed the summer rose,
"I'll close my eyes awhile."
"And I'm so tired,"² sighed³ buttercup,
"I really cannot smile!"
"I'm drowsy" too,"⁴ the aster said,
And quick came the reply
From meadow, wood, and flower-bed,
"And I! and I! and I!"
And so they closed their pretty eyes
As autumn's⁵ snow fell down,
The first soft snow of darkening skies
O'er field and wayside brown.
"Twas then the holly whispered low,
"The earth looks dark and drear
Without a flower! so I'll bestow
A⁶ smile of hope and cheer."
And so when Christmas⁸ joy-bells ring
And skies with clouds are gray,
We welcome you,⁹ Oh holly dear,
The flower of Christmas Day!

1—Close eyes

2—Head bent to right (with eyes closed)

3—Eyes remain closed

4—As words "And I" are repeated by all, three of the speakers raise hand in succession

5—Twinkling motion with fingers to represent falling of snow

6—Sweeping motion, right hand

7—Smile

8—Motion as if pulling bell rope

9—Both hands extended as in welcome

THE CHARM OF THE AGES

(An exercise for four children)

- 1st—There's a song that shall ever be sung o'er again,
As long as the heavens look down upon men,
The song that was sung by the angels of light
To the shepherds at Bethlehem city one night.
- 2nd There's a beautiful story that never grows old:
'Tis newer and sweeter the more it is told;
'Tis the story the angels brought down to the earth,
The story of Jesus the dear Saviour's birth.
- 3rd—There's a star that I think of so oft when I see
The bright stars above looking down upon me:
'Tis the star of the Wise Men, that beautiful star
That led them to Jesus from regions afar.
- 4th—There is One in the story, the song and the star,
That makes the bright Christmas days all that they are,
'Tis Jesus the Saviour, the dear Christmas Guest;
Whoever keeps Christmas with Him will be blest.

S. C. Kirk

CHRISTMAS VOICES

- 1st—Out on the hills the fir trees bend
Their pretty heads together,
And whisper, "See, white flakes descend!
'Twill soon be Christmas weather:
Then each shall be a Christmas tree,
And O, how happy we shall be!"
- 2nd—And far above in arch and tower
The bells awake from dreaming,
Rejoicing in the charmed hour
When Christmas light is gleaming.
They ring as one united voice,
"Awake, O earth, rejoice, rejoice!"
- 3rd—And high and low and young and old
Are bound in one glad union,
Led by the Christmas light, they hold
A new and sweet communion:
For all as one great family are
When shines the lovely Christmas Star!

The Young People's Chorus

By I. H. MEREDITH

This book is designed to meet the needs of all young people's choirs desiring easy and attractive music. The selections are written mostly in unison and two parts. The occasional passages for Bass and Tenor may be omitted if desired. Their introduction makes some of the selections suitable for choir of mixed adults. The music is of a grade which any average choir of children or young people can easily learn.

Better than the average run of Sunday School songs and gospel hymns, yet within the reach of those usually selected for such choirs.

This book is printed on good strong paper, from new plates, attractively and durably bound in a limp cover.

Per copy 30 cents, postpaid. Per dozen $3.00 not prepaid. A copy for examination sent on receipt of 4 cents to pay for postage, to be returned or paid for in 10 days.

SACRED Two-Part Choruses

Two-part music for women's voices is coming into such general demand that we have decided to issue a line of octavo two-part sacred selections to meet the needs of women's choruses and junior choirs.

The music for the most part is of easy grade and, par excellence, the very best thing for junior choirs. Some of the numbers contain two or three shorter pieces, the single numbers comprising longer selections suitable for more mature singers, while not beyond the reach of the younger people.

Issued at the very low uniform net rate of 5 cents per copy, 50 cents per dozen, this series of sacred two-part choruses furnishes a choice repertoire of material, attractive, easy, economical. Order by number.

The increasing demand for music suitable for choirs of young singers has led us to publish a series of musical selections in octavo form which we here introduce under the title of

Tullar-Meredith Co.'s

Choir Classics for Young Singers

By English and American Composers

These are new and original compositions arranged mostly for unison and two part singing with optional passages for four voices. They are "CLASSICS" in the sense of representing the best in the grade for which they are intended. They will appeal to choirs of young singers, young in years or young in experience, and especially to choirs of girls' voices. We believe that nothing has ever before been offered in such an attractive form and at such a moderate price to young American singers. "CHOIR CLASSICS" are published at a uniform price of 5 cents per copy, 50 cents per dozen, $4.00 per hundred, all prepaid, and these prices are strictly net.

There are seventeen selections already issued as per the following list:

4001	The ranks of light	H. Ernest Nichol	4009	Father 'tis eventide	F. A. Challinor
4002	A song of work	H. Ernest Nichol	4010	Come unto Me	F. A. Challinor

Female Voice Selections

Songs Sacred and Secular

For Women's Voices

Edited by I. H. MEREDITH

This book has been prepared to meet a growing demand for music suitable for Women's voices. Good female voices are more easily secured than male and we are surprised that more choir leaders do not utilize their talent to better advantage.

The first 64 pages of the book are given entirely to sacred selections. These are all of easy grade but the harmonies are elaborated sufficiently to interest the singers as well as the listeners.

The secular department contains a beautiful collection of original and standard selections which will be found admirable for concert use as well as social work of the church. No choir library should be without this book.

The increasing demand for music suitable for choirs of young singers has led us to publish a series of musical selections in octavo form which we here introduce under the title of

Tullar-Meredith Co.'s

Choir Classics for Young Singers

By English and American Composers

These are new and original compositions arranged mostly for unison and two part singing with optional passages for four voices. They are "CLASSICS" in the sense of representing the best in the grade for which they are intended. They will appeal to choirs of young singers, young in years or young in experience, and especially to choirs of girls' voices. We believe that nothing has ever before been offered in such an attractive form and at such a moderate price to young American singers. "CHOIR CLASSICS" are published at a uniform price of 5 cents per copy, 50 cents per dozen, $4.00 per hundred, all prepaid, and these prices are strictly net.

There are seventeen selections already issued as per the following list:

4001	The ranks of light	H. Ernest Nichol	4009	Father 'tis eventide	F. A. Challinor
4002	A song of work	H. Ernest Nichol	4010	Come unto Me	F. A. Challinor
4003	Crowns	F. A. Challinor	4011	The Gospel light	F. A. Challinor
4004	Hark! the voice of Jesus	F. A. Challinor	4012	Father, from Thy throne in glory	F. A. Challinor
4005	Children of the Kingdom	F. A. Challinor	4013	Life is a river	F. A. Challinor
4006	O'er the earth the shades of	F. A. Challinor	4014	Voices from afar	F. A. Challinor
4007	Jesus and the children	F. A. Challinor	4015	In His own world a stranger	F. A. Challinor
4008	Glad Hosannas	F. A. Challinor	4016	Catch the sunshine	F. A. Challinor
			4017	Onward	F. A. Challinor

(others will be added from time to time)

H. Ernest Nichol and F. A. Challinor are two of England's foremost composers of music suitable for voices of young people and their names alone are sufficient to guarantee the attractive musicianly qualities of this series.

A Trip to Palestine

A Practical Device for Increasing the Attendance and Offerings

This competitive chart is a beautiful and attractive idea. The school is divided into two parts, and embark on two ships on a trip to Palestine. The progress of the voyage is regulated by the attendance or by the number of new scholars secured, each scholar counting a certain number of miles for each Sunday's attendance. If desired, new scholars may count in the progress of the ships, also the offerings; for the plan can be used in a variety of ways. The ships are moved along upon the chart from Sunday to Sunday. The contest not only appeals to the eye, but the interest becomes intense as the ships pass and repass in the race. A button having a picture of the ship to which they belong is given to each scholar.

The Ladder of Merit

A unique chart to stimulate interest in the attendance and collection of the Sunday-school.

The chart is lithographed on a sheet mounted on linen. Size, $1\frac{1}{2} \times 3\frac{1}{2}$ feet, with a tin binding top and bottom.

The movable figures of the boy and girl are six inches high, and climb up the ladders as the attendance and offering increase.

It is altogether a new and novel device by which the superintendent can arouse the desire of the whole school to grow.

The school can be divided equally, one side represented by the boy and the other side by the girl; or attendance of boys and girls, respectively, can be recorded.

We have received a number of unsolicited testimonies from those who have doubled their attendance and offerings by the use of this chart. You can do it also. Do it now.
